Book Talk

7:00 - 8:30 p.m.

Thursday, September 19 / Jr. Ballroom F

A New York Times Bestseller, The Sum of Us, by Heather McGhee, offers a powerful exploration of inequality and the lesson that generations of Americans have failed to learn: Racism has a cost for everyone—not just for people of color.

McGhee is an expert in economic and social policy, with a specialty in the American economy—and the mystery of why it so often fails the American public. From the financial crisis of 2008 to rising student debt to collapsing public infrastructure, she found a root problem: racism in our politics and policymaking.

PANELISTS

DR. KENNETH HAWKINS, ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR, HILLSBOROUGH COMMUNITY COLLEGE

A Fulbright-Hays fellow and teacher for 20 years, his focus is on African American Literature and English Composition. His most recent article published in The Journal of Blacks in Higher Education addresses the complexities of vacating diversity initiatives.

DR. SUZANNE LYNCH, ENGLISH PROFESSOR, HILLSBOROUGH COMMUNITY COLLEGE

Specializing in race and gender in American literature, her most article published in the 2022 Winter issue of Studies in the Fantastic looked at the consequences of racial mixture in the Jamaican novel The White Witch of Rosehall. She is both a Fulbright fellow and a grantee.

MODERATORS

DR. PRIMROSE CAMERON, PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT AND EDUCATIONAL RESEARCH DIRECTOR, FLORIDA EDUCATION ASSOCIATION

Dr. Cameron is a dedicated educator with 28 years of experience as a professional development specialist, director, community activist, author, and union advocate. Throughout a distinguished career, Dr. Cameron has worked closely with educators, students, and communities, advocating for equitable access to education and essential resources, helping others achieve success and build stronger futures.

PROF. ELIZABETH KEY-RAIMER, COUNSELOR, HILLSBOROUGH COMMUNITY COLLEGE

Professor Key-Raimer has devoted 28 years to advocating for and assisting underperforming students. She holds an MA in Student Affairs and an EdS in Higher Education Leadership. Elizabeth is a dedicated advocate, having served two terms as president of the HCC Faculty United Service Association (FUSA) and continues to serve in her local leadership. She is chair of UFF-LEID (Leadership, Equity, Inclusion and Diversity).

Welcome delegates to this year's PD Day at the 2024 DA hosted by the FEA Professional Development and Educational Research Department. We are excited for the possibilities of growth and empowerment that await you during this transformative event. By sharing your knowledge, experiences, and insights with your colleagues throughout the sessions, you are contributing to a culture of collaboration and excellence that benefits us all.

Today, you have the opportunity to choose from 15 amazing sessions of learning and engagement that will allow you to bring back the tools necessary to strengthen your strategies to build power through professional development.

As the Director of Professional Development, it is my privilege to welcome you to this gathering of dedicated educators committed to advancing our profession and supporting the success of every student. The FEA PD Department is here to support all members in positively impacting children, public education, and yourselves. We are stronger together!

Dr. Primrose E. Cameron
Director of Professional Development
Florida Education Association

THANK YOU TO THE FEA PD TEAM:

Dr. Sarah Fulk, PD Specialist
Donna Miller, PD Administrative Assistant
Blanca Sotelo, PD Specialist

FEA Delegate Assembly Professional Development Course Descriptions

Beyond Creating Equity

Facilitator: Michael Woods, Board Member, Palm Beach County Classroom Teachers Association

BCE is designed to help educators identify and address the issues of racial inequity in education. Its focus is on what it looks like to be a culturally competent teacher in practical application. Participants will examine various aspects of racial inequity and how to implement change for the education all students deserve.

SALON 8

Community Schools 101 Workshop (AFT)

Facilitator: Dena Donaldson, Assistant Director, American Federation of Teachers Educational Issues

The community schools' strategy is evidence based, but not cookie cutter. Community schools foster collaboration among stakeholders to ensure greater equity in policies and partnerships while seeking to honor the culture and lived experiences of students, families, and staff. They do this while maintaining a high academic standard that promotes student wellbeing and powerful learning. The Community Schools 101 Workshop is designed to equip participants with an understanding of community schools, what makes them successful, and opportunities for implementation in and outside of K-12. It will also delve into the ways that the community school's strategy supports students, families, and staff. Participants will come away with resources and connections to help them take the next steps to implement the community schools’ strategy with their own school-community.

SALON 1

Equality Florida: Supporting LGBTQ+ Students: What You Need to Know

Facilitators: Geanny Joseph Ruiz, Senior Manager, Equality Florida’s Statewide Safe and Healthy Schools Program; Alex Quinto, Counselor Pinellas County Schools

In the spring of 2022, HB 1557, also referred to as the “Don’t Say Gay” bill, was signed into law. It prohibits “classroom instruction by school personnel, or third parties on sexual orientation or gender identity.” A federal lawsuit challenging this law was settled on March 11, 2024, resulting in critical clarifications for Florida teachers, faculty and staff. This training will discuss those clarifications, general best practices for operating within a difficult political climate, and additional opportunities to advocate for LGBTQ+ teachers, students and their families.

SALON 3

Equity in Action: Advancing Inclusive Educational Excellence and Social Justice

Facilitator: Dr. Rajni Shankar-Brown, Professor and JBD Chair of Social Justice Education, Stetson University

This workshop offers an in-depth exploration of the crucial intersection between education and intersectional equity issues. The session will examine the ways systemic oppression affects educational outcomes and community support structures, with a particular focus on children, youth, and families living in poverty and experiencing homelessness. The disproportionate impact of these issues on Indigenous, Black, Brown, and LGBTQIA2S+ communities will be illuminated, along with a call to action — to rethink and reshape educational practices and policies through culturally responsive and equity-centered lenses. Participants will engage in critical reflection and collaborative dialogue, forging interdisciplinary connections to envision and implement educational reforms that bridge opportunity gaps.

SALON 6

Elections Matter, But That’s Only the Beginning! How to Make the Change We Want

Facilitator: Cathy Boehme, Political Specialist, Florida Education Association

Change starts with each of us. Our democratic process requires informed citizens who act so that their voices are heard and considered. When we understand the elements of political engagement and how each person’s actions make a difference, we can create our success. We hear all the time “All politics is local.” We must act locally, grow our influence, and build our power, one leap at a time. Participants will explore how to make changes happen, review the lessons from this summer’s school board races and plan for how to use those results.

SALON 16

Empowering our Retirees

SESSION 1: HOW CAN RETIREES GET INVOLVED IN ELECTION 2024

Facilitator: Bernadette Aguirre, Director of Retirees, AFT Retiree PPC, American Federation of Teachers; Meghan Rozarie, Organizing, American Federation of Teachers

In this session, participants will get an overview of AFT National Retiree Programming and learn about the role of our Retired Activists in the 2024 elections. Affirm our commitment to union values and focus on electing Kamala Harris and Tim Walz for the future of democracy. As the session concludes, all attendees will be invited to join an impromptu postcard writing session.

SESSION 2: TIME AND STRESS MANAGEMENT HACKS

Facilitator: Michele Ridolfi O'Neill, Organizational Specialist, National Education Association

There never seem to be enough hours in the day, but there certainly seems to be enough stress! How would you like to learn some life hacks to decrease stress while making the most of your time? In this interactive session, participants will share their wellness routines and ideas, and learn new ways to stay active and take the best care of yourselves in retirement.

SALON 21

Exploring Generative Artificial Intelligence: A Hands-On Learning Experience for Educators

Facilitator: Rob Weil, American Federation of Teachers

In the rapidly changing landscape of technology, Artificial Intelligence (AI) is at the forefront. It is reshaping entire work sectors and will have an impact on almost all work. This workshop provides an introductory overview of AI, explaining its basic concepts and the various forms it takes in today's world. This workshop aims to demystify AI and explore its implications in the labor sector. A critical part of the workshop involves real-world demonstrations. Participants will witness firsthand how AI works, and explore both the benefits and challenges of AI integration in the workplace.

SALON 12

How to Have Hard Conversations

Facilitator: Chester Wilson, Executive Director, CW Consulting Firm

In this training, participants will learn how to have hard conversations. They will gain a greater understanding of differences among professionals and professions, as well as tools to work across cultures while enhancing relationships and reducing misunderstandings.

SALON 11

Managing Behaviors in School Communities for Education Staff Professionals

Facilitator: Shareka Battle, ESOL Resource Teacher, Pine Grove Elementary School, Delray Beach, Florida

This session will provide education staff professionals with effective strategies for managing unwanted behaviors across the various school and education settings. In addition, we will cover techniques for de-escalation. Unlike any other time in public education, examining and exploring root causes of challenging and disruptive behaviors requires different skill sets: pedagogy grounded in trauma-informed and restorative practices, navigating physical and virtual environments, while straddling your own personal and professional demands and their influence across learning communities.

SALON 7

Math and Reading Party: Learning Math and Reading Through Music and Dance

Facilitator: Dr. Stephanie Pasley-Henry, author, publisher and educational entrepreneur

Come sing, dance, exercise and learn! This electrifying and empowering presentation challenges 21st century educators and parents of young children to embrace the art of infusing music, dance and exercise into math and reading lessons. Research indicates the infusion of music and movement with math and reading content invigorates learning and reduces anxiety toward each subject in later years. Students' language and vocabulary skills are improved as a result to learning math and reading through music. The Math Party includes a range of concepts including counting, converting, multiplication and many more. The Reading Party teaches alphabetic, phonemic and phonological awareness principles like never before! This session is cutting-edge, interactive, and fun — don't be tardy for the Math and Reading Party!

JR. BALLROOM F

Organizing with Member Benefits

Facilitator: Shayla Ivey, Member Benefits Specialist, Florida Education Association; Pam Williams, Member Benefits Specialist, Florida Education Association

As a valued FEA member, you have exclusive access to a suite of benefits designed to help you save money and make smart financial decisions. In this session, member benefits staff will provide an in-depth exploration of all the cost-saving advantages available to you, including discounted insurance rates, financial planning services, and special offers on everyday essentials. Your member benefits experts will guide you through practical strategies on leveraging these benefits effectively, ensuring you understand how to maximize the substantial savings potential. Whether you are new to FEA or a long-standing member, this session is your key to unlocking the full financial benefits of your membership.

SALON 20

Parliamentary Procedure and Roberts Rules

Facilitator: Jeff Neurauter, member of American Institute of Parliamentarians

Learn how to make your meetings run more smoothly! Find out how easy it is to understand the basics of Robert's Rules of Order. Understand how to use that knowledge appropriately. Get tips on how to effectively participate and/or chair meetings using parliamentary procedure. Participants will learn the order of precedence, several basic motions, and when and how to make motions.

SALON 15

Share My Lesson: Maximizing Student Success - Collaborative Tools and Resources

Facilitator: Natalie Dean, Assistant Director, American Federation of Teachers Share My Lesson

Join this engaging workshop that explores how Share My Lesson (SML), powered by AFT, can be your go-to platform for enhancing student success. Discover how SML offers a vast collection of free, high-quality teaching materials, lesson plans, activities, and professional development resources designed to meet the diverse needs of educators. This workshop is designed for educators, school staff, and administrators who are looking to enhance their teaching practices and collaborate more effectively with peers. Whether you're new to SML or a seasoned user, you'll leave with practical strategies to integrate these powerful tools into your daily routine, ultimately driving student success.

SALON 2

Social Media for Advocacy

Facilitator: Luke Flynt, Education Policy Communications Specialist, Florida Education Association

When used strategically, social media is a tool that can help to grow a pro-public education and pro-union movement. We'll start the session with an overview of how to create messages that inspire and engage local members and the community at large and then apply those messaging guidelines to building social media campaigns.

SALON 13

True Colors

Facilitator: Vanessa Skipper, Vice President, Brevard Federation of Teachers

True Colors is an easy, entertaining way to identify your character spectrum to better understand yourself and others. True Colors uses four colors to identify distinct perspectives and personalities. Most of us have a dominant or bright color and are influenced or shaded by the other three colors, thus creating our True Colors Spectrum. True Colors establishes a common language by which we communicate core motivations, needs and behaviors. Discovering your spectrum is fun and exciting! Once you recognize the True Colors in yourself and others, you will be able to respond more appropriately and concisely in your varied communication settings.
