SS.912.HC.1.9 Compare The Communist Manifesto (1848) and the Bill of Rights in their views on individual rights, property, and government.

Benchmark Clarifications:

Clarification 1: Instruction includes the foundational principles in the Bill of Rights.

Clarification 2: Instruction includes the 10 measures to achieve communism catalogued in The Communist Manifesto.

SS.912.HC.1.10 Compare communist and socialist thought.

Benchmark Clarifications:

Clarification 1: Instruction includes how socialism can lead to a communist regime rising to power.

Clarification 2: Instruction includes the concept of socialism as a transitory system between capitalism and communism.

Clarification 3: Instruction includes the source of authority in socialism and communism and the means by which they exist and endure.

Clarification 4: Instruction includes socialists who renounced revolution as a means to achieve their ends (e.g., United Kingdom's Labour Party).

SS.912.HC.1.11 Identify the nature of and the response to communist and socialist political parties prior to 1914.

Benchmark Clarifications:

Clarification 1: Instruction includes the rise of, and political responses to communist and socialist parties.

Clarification 2: Instruction includes how social reformers responded to the intellectual and political challenges of communist and socialist parties.

SS.912.HC.1.12 Assess how Russian radical movements created a revolutionary culture that contributed to the rise of communism in Russia.

Benchmark Clarifications:

Clarification 1: Instruction includes the Narodniks.

Clarification 2: Instruction includes the People's Will and its assassination campaign.

Clarification 3: Instruction includes the rise of the Mensheviks, Bolsheviks, and Socialist Revolutionaries in Tsarist Russia.

SS.912.HC.2 Analyze the tactics and tools utilized by communist movements and states.

SS.912.HC.2.1 Examine the methods and rationale of communist nations exercising total information control in their countries.

Benchmark Clarifications:

Clarification 1: Instruction includes why communist nations seize and take control of all means of communication (e.g., print, radio, TV, internet, social media).

Clarification 2: Instruction includes using censorship, self-censorship, and compelled speech to prevent dissent.

Clarification 3: Instruction includes the use of lies and propaganda to hide, cover, or excuse regime failures or excesses (e.g., Stalin's Russia and the western press (Walter Duranty) concealment of the Holodomor, Vaclav Havel's Power of the Powerless; attempts to control media).

Clarification 4: Instruction includes altering and manipulating history and scholarship to counter perceived enemies or promote regime leaders.

Clarification 5: Instruction includes the monopoly on education to indoctrinate and control the population from childhood.

SS.912.HC.2.2 Identify how communist governments use security services as a tool of state terror to maintain power and control of their people.

Example: The ratio of security services personnel to population: East German Stasi 1:180 and Soviet Union's 1:583 compared to United States' 1:25,385.

Benchmark Clarifications:

Clarification 1: Instruction includes a review of the various security services communist leaders have created and used to control their populations (e.g., Soviet Union's Cheka and Komitet gosudarstvennoy bezopasnosti (KGB); East German Stasi; Cuba's Ministry of Interior; China's Ministry of State Security; Cambodia's Santebal; Venezuela's Servicio Bolivariano de Inteligencia Nacional (SEBIN)).

Clarification 2: Instruction includes use of imprisonment, torture and forced labor camps to instill fear and compliance (e.g., Soviet GULAG system, Cuba's expansive political prison system, Cambodia's Killing Fields, China's Laogai, and Uyghur re-education camps).

Clarification 3: Instruction includes use of famine as a weapon (e.g., Lenin's famine, Stalin's engineered famine in Ukraine and Kazakhstan (Holodomor), Cambodia's Killing Fields).

Clarification 4: Instruction includes the use of surveillance, security forces and informants to monitor and control the population (e.g., the ratio of security services personnel to population, children as informants and enforcers in the Soviet Union, China's Cultural Revolution, Pol Pot's S-21 camp guards).

SS.912.HC.2.3 Recognize how communist states restrict and ban religious expression.
Benchmark Clarifications:

Clarification 1: Instruction includes a review of communist statements on religion and God in society (e.g., Marx on religion as “the opium of the people,” Lenin, Stalin, Mao, Castro statements against religion).

Clarification 2: Instruction includes communist governments' propaganda against religion (e.g., propaganda campaigns against religion in the Soviet Union under Lenin and Stalin; China's campaigns against religious expression, including the repression of Islam among the Uyghurs).
